

As the 2014 race season comes to a close and the Points Final races begin, tensions are running high within many of the divisions. We have had a very eventful season, with almost a complete rain out in the month of June, action packed races, and hot tempers. However, there is still more excitement to come.

In the past few weeks tempers have clearly flared (as they usually do when the season is coming to an end and so many drivers are hoping to weasel their way into the championship spot) and our dedicated fans have showed their excitement from the stands. Speaking of the fans, there has been a rumour going around that the hundreds of fans who attended a recent race made so much noise that the drivers could hear the cheering from inside their cars while under caution. Being a racer myself, I know that is an awesome sound. During the race the drivers can rarely find the time to take a glimpse into the stands, as other drivers are skidding around in front of them or pushing them through the corner. The main goal of the drivers is to put on an amazing show for the fans. The broken parts, burning rubber, checkered flags, and excitement in the pits aside, the drivers want to impress the fans.

In this edition of Auto Clearing Motor Speedway's Track Talk Newsletter, I would like to take time to thank the fans. The fans that sit in the rain, waiting for the showers to pass so we can go back to green. The fans that go home covered in dirt, dust and the smell of exhaust every weekend. The fans that sit under the lights wrapped in their sleeping bags on our cold Saskatchewan nights. Those who volunteer for our track, promote our track and make their way down to the pits at the end of every race event to congratulate their favourite driver and maybe even get an autograph or two, if they're lucky. Without these dedicated fans, our drivers wouldn't be able to do what they love; race.

Here is a challenge to those super fans who love to work on cars and dream of being in the pits or behind the wheel of a race car. Spend a weekend building a Run Your Junk car for the second segment of our Enduro. There's no better way to end the race season than by actually becoming part of the show and learning what this sport is all about, first hand and right in the heart of the storm. You can experience for yourself the excitement of racing your way through a pit stop or trying to hunt down the car in front of you with five laps to go. All of the rules and information about this race are on the ACMS website, www.autoclearingmotorspeedway.ca.

The drivers at ACMS would like to salute the fans who are dedicated to the success of our track, and most importantly, who love this crazy sport as much as they do.
